Central Goal of the CIT Program:

To strengthen instruction and teacher retention through Peer Assistance and Review (PAR).

The CIT Program accomplishes this goal by:

- providing an opportunity for exemplary teachers to share their knowledge and expertise with other teachers;
- developing and maintaining high quality teaching staff in the RCSD through internships for new teachers and professional support for tenured teachers experiencing difficulties in the classroom;
- providing intervention for tenured teachers experiencing severe difficulties in the classroom;
- offering professional feedback as part of the evaluation process through Independent Evaluation (formerly “Peer Review”); and
- providing teachers with career options that do not require them to leave classroom teaching to assume additional responsibilities and leadership roles

Peer Assistance and Review for New Teachers: Taking Charge of Our Profession

The AFT has long supported peer assistance and review (PAR) programs, and provides support to locals that want to institute a PAR program. PAR ensures

- (1) that new teachers get the professional development and support they need from experienced, expert teachers;
- (2) that only capable, well-prepared teachers who meet high entry standards are offered permanent positions; and
- (3) that unions and experienced teachers help set the standards for all teachers.

PAR programs must be devised collaboratively by the district and the union. They must be coherent and ongoing, and must encompass hiring and orientation; intensive professional development, support and mentoring; and a final review that determines whether each aspiring novice meets high standards of practice. In addition, PAR programs must include the following characteristics:

- High quality teachers, selected through a fair and quality-conscious process, who are responsible for mentoring and assisting new teachers, preferably on a full-time basis.
- District provided training, time, resources and responsibility for expert teachers to mentor new teachers through at least their probationary period.
- Expert teachers who are responsible for making wise, tough, evidence-based recommendations to decision-makers about whether a new teacher merits continuing employment.
- Recommendations that are based on agreed-upon, transparent, evidence-based professional standards.
- Adequate and sustained budget support guaranteed through the regular district budget.

Why Do Teachers Leave?

Increasing the number of teachers entering the profession is one strategy for reducing the teacher shortage, but we also need to address the persistent problem of teacher turnover. Each year, more than 200,000 teachers leave the profession, with nearly two out of three leaving for reasons other than retirement. What is contributing to the teacher exodus?

Inadequate Preparation

Beginning teachers with little or no preparation are 2½ times more likely to leave the classroom after one year compared to their well-prepared peers.

Lack Of Support For New Teachers

New teachers who do not receive mentoring and other supports leave at more than two times the rate of those who do.

Challenging Working Conditions

Teachers often cite working conditions, such as the support of their principals and the opportunity to collaborate with colleagues, as the top reason for leaving.

Dissatisfaction With Compensation

Beginning teachers earn about 20% less than individuals with college degrees in other fields, a wage gap that can widen to 30% for mid-career educators.

Better Career Opportunities

More than 1 in 4 teachers who leave say they do so to pursue other career opportunities.

Personal Reasons

More than 1 in 3 teachers who leave cite personal reasons, including pregnancy and child care, as extremely or very important in their decision.

Lack Of Support For New Teachers

New teachers who do not receive mentoring and other supports leave at more than two times the rate of those who do.

CIT Program Goals:

To strengthen instruction and teacher retention through Peer Assistance and Review (PAR).

Research using “national longitudinal data” places the national new teacher five-year retention rate at 55.4%.* Because of the unusually high retention rate in the RCSD, mentor programs across the nation have been modeled after the RCSD CIT Program.

Building Trust

Trust is the foundation of a successful mentor-intern relationship.

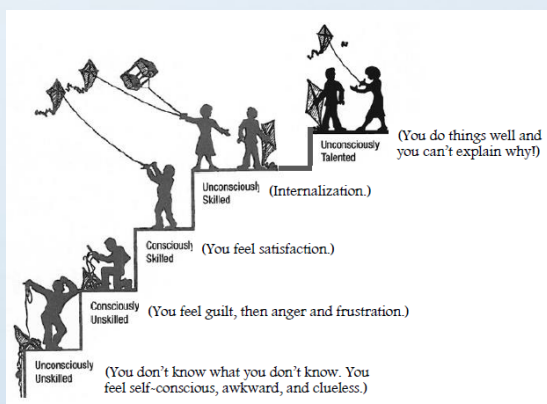

"Supporting someone willing to make changes, guiding them toward stretching and improving, giving them useful feedback, and otherwise jumping into their life requires a high level of trust from both parties."
(Barkley, 2010, p.40)

"Trust means saying what you're going to do and then doing it." (Barkley, 2010, p.47)

Confidentiality

- ☐ Trust is predicated on your intern's confidence in your ability to maintain confidentiality.
- ☐ It is your obligation as a CIT mentor to maintain confidentiality.
- ☐ Trust may take a while to develop. Be patient. Trust is difficult to force. Restrain from "prying" before the foundations of trust are established.
- ☐ You must keep personal information confidential (even when someone wants to be helpful).
- ☐ Exceptions: danger of harm to others or themselves.
- ☐ If information should be shared...
  - o have intern accompany you to share the information, or
  - o get intern's permission to share, or
  - o inform the intern that the information is being shared.
- ☐ If you are uncertain, consult with the CIT Director.

COMMENTS/CONCERNS ABOUT STATUS REPORTS:

Missing reports (list intern names):

Missing signature(s). Please sign and return to CIT Office.

☒ Clear, direct statements of intern strengths/weakness

☒ Information useful for CIT Panel decisions

☒ Insufficient observations (Please list the specific dates and times when you were in your interns' classes)

☒ Not enough information. More details needed or ☒ report to support "Effective" ratings.

Quality of information: not specific, inconsistent, illegible, etc.

Other:

Thank you for your hard work with [redacted]. You logged an impressive number of observations and conferences this fall. You have provided a few good examples of her strengths in the classroom.

Domain 1 Planning and Preparation
You highlighted several important qualities of [redacted]'s teaching in this section. Some of these address rubric components from other domains. Greeting students by name (2a), recording contacts (4b,c), paperwork (4b), PD (4e). More detailed examples from Domain 1 components are needed to support the "Effective" rating.

Domain 2 Classroom Environment
You have provided some good examples to document [redacted]'s struggle in this domain with classroom procedures. Do be careful about assumptions about her emotional state (words like "overwhelmed"). Better: [redacted] struggles to respond when handling multiple student requests." To strengthen this section, please describe in your next report a more specific description of her transition routines, and some examples of the learning environment (2b). You might consider including specific goals for instituting routines and procedures to address the issues you identify.

Domain 3 Instruction
As with Classroom Environment, you have identified the most important aspects of practice needing improvement. Now she needs specific, attainable goals. For example, something like "For the next few observations, [redacted] will implement and enforce procedures for discussion and we will analyze if there is increased participation." Or [redacted] will focus on selecting student groups that will further his instructional goals."

Domain 4 Professional Responsibilities
These are good examples from this domain. Is [redacted] seeking any specific PD to address the issues described in the other domains?

CAREER IN TEACHING Lead Teacher Assigned as Mentor Observation Form (For Peer Observation or CIT Panel Contact Observation of Lead Teacher-Mentor)

Lead Teacher Assigned as Mentor: [redacted]

Name of Observer: Stefan Cohen ☒ Panel Contact ☐ Peer Observer

Date: January 21, 2015 Time: 8:30-9:15 a.m. Place of Observation: [redacted] Library

Intern: [redacted] Class Observed: [redacted]

Activities Observed (check as many as apply):

- ☐ Mentor-Intern pre-conference
- ☐ Mentor observing lesson
- ☒ Mentor-Intern post conference
- ☐ Mentor-Administrator
- ☐ Observer conference separately with intern
- ☐ Observer conference with building administrator
- ☐ Other (describe):

Observation:
I enjoyed watching your conference with this promising intern. You have established a supportive and comfortable relationship with Ms. XXXX. She clearly values your support and suggestions. We sat in the enclosed reading room due to testing, but you positioned yourself in a way on the bench that encouraged full attention.

You quickly established a focus for the conference. Transitions. You used an effective opening question: "What do you feel are some strategies that have been successful?" You effectively used patient "wait time" and as a result, Ms. XXXX moved without prompting from a frustration ("no time to set up") to an acknowledgement that she was doing some productive things ("give kids heads up, wind down, ask kids to help, push in chairs"). You guided her to consider a strategy ("I could add this to my expectations"). This conversation also pointed to the value of the CIT Day you arranged. Ms. XXXX had "noticed" what you used "student helpers" and liked the idea. You then effectively made suggestions that reinforced the value of the strategy and made it more likely she would try applying it ("keep the system easy").

I was impressed by the way you listened for Ms. XXXX's perspective and chose to accept her decision about how to track student helpers. Instead of trying to correct her, you encouraged her to think about the issue of making sure everyone would get an opportunity to be the helper. She adjusted her plan accordingly. You then extended her thinking asking her to identify precise roles for students ("How would they help?").

CAREER IN TEACHING Lead Teacher Assigned as Mentor Observation Form (continued)

You asked Ms. XXXX "if you could wave a magic wand..." I liked how you emphasized the need to continually reflect on her practice, and the way you built on her reflection with follow-up questions to help her act on her concerns about transitions. Very nice.

Your exchange with Ms. XXXX about lining up at the end of the period illustrated the power of using "wait time" and "planned forms" in your questions. You started with, "What are some directions that might..." help achieve the desired line-up behaviors? I could tell that you were eager to share some suggestions, and in this one instance you couldn't hold back (5)! Before she answered, you re-asked the question, but switched to "any directions" and sure enough, she seemed to be searching for a correct answer. You soon followed with the excellent suggestion of a "Question of the Day." No harm done. She was fully engaged in the question, and still had some ideas of her own. It is a good reminder, though, to allow time for her thoughts first, prior to shifting into a consulting stance. I like that you built this discussion into a well-focused plan for the CIT Day visit. The next step would be to nail down the strategy that she wants to try and make it the focus of the next visit or conference ("Try the _____ strategy and I'll pay close attention to how it works" or "Try it and we'll talk about how it went").

It appears that your support has enabled her to truly take charge of the library, and that she has a vision for what she wants it to become. I hope she follows up on our suggestion to pro-actively advocate for what she needs in the library for next year. Nice work!

The observation should base the overall rating on the following criteria:

- evidence of positive mentor-mentor relationships
- evidence of lead teacher's influence on instruction
- pre and/or post-conference
- other indicators suggested by the individual lead teacher (these should be noted on the observation form)

Based on this observation, the Lead Teacher/Mentor is rated:

☐ EFFECTIVE ☐ DEVELOPING

Tips for Helping an Intern with Classroom Environment

Refer together to the advice in Harry and Rosemary Wong, The First Days of School as a Third Point. Instead of “telling” the intern what to do, use that resource and/or cite research to facilitate discussion, generate open-ended questions, and help interns establish rituals and routines that work for them.

The Wongs emphasize:

PREPARATION

POSITIVE EXPECTATIONS

CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT—PROCEDURES

(Rituals and Routines that are conveyed clearly, taught to students, and consistently enforced).

Emphasize to interns that with procedures in place, you’ll be better able to devote energy to instruction and building strong relationships with your students.

Domain 2: Classroom Environment

- 2a. Creating an environment of respect and rapport
- 2b. Establishing a culture for learning
- 2c. Managing classroom procedures
- 2d. Managing student behavior
- 2e. Organizing physical space

You should also use the Teachscape rubric language in Domain 2 as another Third Point:

CIT and Culturally Responsive Teaching

- CIT believes that an essential part of our work with new teachers is strengthening their cultural competence and culturally responsive teaching practice.
